

THE CENTER FOR INTERNATIONAL & COMPARATIVE STUDIES INTERNATIONAL STUDIES CONCENTRATION COURSE LIST

Introduction Core Course - Minimum credit hours: 3

CICS 101- Introduction to International Studies (Winter 2010)

Four Tracks- Students must choose one track and take at least four courses from that track. One of the courses must be 400 level. The four courses must be taken in two or more academic subjects. Minimum credit hours: 12

International Security, Norms & Cooperation

ANTHCUL 333: Non-Western Legal Systems
POLSCI 353: The Arab-Israeli Conflict
POLSCI 360: Problems in World Politics
POLSCI 361: Regional Conflict & Cooperation
POLSCI 363: International Organization & Integration
POLSCI 364: Public International Law
POLSCI 368: Cooperation & Conflict in International System
POLSCI 369: Politics of International Economic Globalization

POLSCI 370: Comparative Foreign Policy
POLSCI 370: International Security Affairs
POLSCI 489: The International Law & Politics of Human Rights
HIS 363: US Foreign Policy and International Politics since World War II
HIS 389: War since the Eighteenth Century
POLSCI 463: War & the Environment
SLAVIC 470: Human Rights Reporting & Problems of Representation

Political Economy & Development

ANTHCUL 439: Economic Anthropology & Development
ECON 340: International Economics
ECON 350: Comparative Economic Systems
ECON 360: The Developing Economies
ECON 441: International Trade Theory
ECON 461: The Economics of Development I
ENVIRON 367: Global Enterprise & Sustainable Development
ENVIRON 270: Our Common Future: Ecology, Economics & Ethics of Sustainable Development

POLSCI 338: Political Economy of Transition
POLSCI 343: Political Economy of Developed Democracies
POLSCI 348: Political Economy of Development
POLSCI 365: Political Responses to Economic Relations
POLSCI 369: Politics of International Economic Globalization
RCSCI 311/SOC 311: Contemporary Globalization
RCNSCI 250: Ecology, Development & Conservation in Latin America
RCSCI 315: International Grassroots Development

Global Environment & Health

ENVIRON 263: Energy and the Environment
HIS 284: Sickness & Health in Society
HIS 285: Science, Technology, Medicine & Society
HIS 300: Epidemics throughout History
ANTHCUL 408: Maternal/Child Health & Environmental Pollution in Africa
CAAS 365: Global Perspectives on Gender, Health, & Reproduction
ECON 370: Environmental & Resource Economics
ENVIRON 222: Intro to Environmental Justice

ENVIRON 263: Energy and the Environment
ENVIRON 365: International Environmental Policy
ENVIRON 367: Global Enterprise & Sustainable Development
POLSCI 463: War & the Environment
RCSS 311: Global Political Ecology: Contemporary Debates
RCIDIV 318: Food, Land & Society
RCNSCI 250: Ecology, Development & Conservation in Latin America
RCSCI 419: Sustainable Energy Systems

Core Course - Minimum credit hours: 3

CICS 301- Principles of International Studies (Fall 2010)

Comparative Culture & Identity

The selected courses should contribute to the coherence of the student's overall IS concentration. Therefore, all courses must be approved by the International Studies Advisor and signed off by the director of CICS prior to registration. Here is a list of courses that have been approved.

AAPTIS 200: Intro to World Religions: Near Eastern	HIS 241: America and Middle Eastern Wars
AAPTIS 381: The Arab-Israeli Conflict in Middle Eastern Literature	HIS 314: Empire, War, in Modern France & the World in the 20th Century
ASIAN 220: Intro to the Study of Asian Religions	HIS 333: Survey of Central & Eastern Europe & the Enlarged European Union
ASIAN 235: Intro to the Study of Asian Cultures	MENAS 493: Comparative Perspective of the Middle East & North Africa
ASIAN 261: Modern China & its Others	POLSCI 346: Comparative Studies in Religion & Politics
ANTHRCUL 222: Comparative Study of Cultures	POLSCI 353: The Arab-Israeli Conflict
ANTHRCUL 305: Peoples & Cultures of the Himalaya	POLSCI 357: Government & Politics of India and South Asia
ANTHRCUL 309: Anthropology of Europe	RCHUMS 260: Intro to American & European Dance History
ANTHRCUL 319: Latin American Society & Culture	RCHUMS 301: Arts & Ideas of Modern South & Southeast Asia
ANTHRCUL 323: Ethnography & Politics of the Contemporary Pacific	RCHUMS 305: Cultural Confrontations in the Arts
ANTHRCUL 328: Globalizing Consumer Cultures	RCHUMS 373: Performing Arts in South & Southeast Asia
ANTHRCUL 404: Peoples & Cultures of Southeast Asia	RCSSCI 310: Globalization of History
ANTHRCUL 408: Maternal/Child Health & Environmental Pollution in Africa	RCSSCI 428: Sex Panic in the US & UK Since 1890
ANTHRCUL 409: People & Cultures of the Near East & Africa	SLAVIC 470/CICS 401: Human Rights Reporting & Problems of Representation
ANTHRCUL 464: Language, Culture & Society in South Asia	SLAVIC 250: Cultural Diversity in Russia, Eastern Europe, & Eurasia
ANTHRCUL 474: Language, Ethnicity & Nationalism	SPA 332: Short Narrative in Latin America & Spain
COMM 458: Media and Identity in Global Context	SPA 438: The Economy & Politics in Latin America & Spain
COMM 488: L.A., Bombay, Hong Kong: Creative Industries in Transition
COMPLIT 240: Intro to Comparative Literature	ANTHRCUL 333: Non-Western Legal Systems
COMPLIT 260: Europe & its Others	ANTHRCUL 349: Indigenous Political Movements
COMPLIT 280: America & its Others
COMPLIT 382: Literature & the Other Arts
COMPLIT 490: Comparative Cultural Studies
ENG 375: World Literature in English

Foreign Language Requirement

Sixth-term proficiency in a language other than English. The language requirement does not need to be completed before students declare the major.

One Research Methods Course

(prerequisite for CICS 301) - A quantitative research methods course from the following list Minimum credit hours: 3

COMM 211: Evaluating Information	ECON 309: Experimental Economics
SOC 210: Elementary Statistics	ECON 401: Intermediate Macroeconomic Theory
ECON 405: Intro to Statistics	SOC 310: Intro to Research Methods
STATS 350: Intro to Statistics & Data Analysis	POLSCI 391: Intro to Modeling Political Processes
POLSCI 490: Game Theory & Formal Models	POLSCI 499: Quantitative Methods of Political Analysis

One Regional Course

Geographic emphasis composed of one course devoted to a single world region or country that is related to the foreign language of choice. This course cannot be double counted with a track course. Minimum credit hours: 3

Three Electives

The electives are designed to allow students to personalize their IS concentration by choosing three advanced courses of particular interest that build upon their track with the approval of the International Studies advisor. The selected courses should thus contribute to the coherence of the student's overall IS concentration. There is no pre-approved list for electives. Students may take additional track, regional, or relevant study abroad courses as electives. Minimum credit hours: 9

Core Course - Minimum credit hours: 3

CICS 401- Advanced Seminar