

Graduate Certificate in Judaic Studies

Apply Now!
Rolling Application
Deadline

Diversify and Strengthen existing PhD in collaboration with the Graduate Certificate

Join an interdisciplinary cohort of students to examine the histories, cultures, and languages of the Jewish people and acquire grounding in Judaic Studies as a secondary field.

Through dynamic courses and collaboration with faculty, students enhance skills, gain specialized knowledge, build credentials, and develop professional expertise. The diverse curriculum allows for exploration of any aspect of the Jewish experience, from Israel to America, spanning the biblical era to the present.

REQUIREMENTS

15 credits including:

- Judaic 601: Introduction to Methods and Topics introduces students to the questions, texts, methodologies, and perspectives that constitute the broad field of Jewish studies
- Judaic 890: Dissertation Workshop—Work with a Judaic Studies faculty and graduate certificate students to workshop a dissertation chapter and present the chapter at a public forum
- 3 electives—6 credits can be used toward existing PhD

Partner with faculty to develop research skills and aid in dissertation writing

Funding available for students engaged in research or advanced learning abroad to cover related costs such as airfare, lodging, ground transportation, and program fees

For additional information visit lsa.umich.edu/judaic/graduates or email js-student-services-@umich.edu