

KIDS IN THE KELSEY!

What was life like for kids in the ancient world?

Search for these objects to learn more!

Woof!
Or is that a
Moo or Meow?

Pull toys that look like horses were popular in Karanis, Egypt. Some have brightly painted saddles.

Kids in Mesopotamia learned to write on circular tablets like this.

Roman girls wore protection amulets shaped like a crescent moon. This was called a lunulua (little moon).

Check out this toy hammer and many other toys in the toy drawer!

Is this a doll or a pacifier? What do you think?

This sandal is a toddler size 9.5

★ Artifacts with stars are in drawers!

Woof!
Or is that a Moo or Meow?

